

CUBAN REVOLUTION
GROWING IN MIGHTULTIMATE SUCCESS IS NOW
STRONGLY INDICATED.

Sentiment in Favor of The Islands Independence Becomes Stronger Each Day—The Republic of Hawaii Very Likely to Fall—Monarchy Only Will Restore Quiet.

New York, May 17.—All advice from Cuba point to the ultimate success of the uprising. The sentiment in favor of the rebellion seems to be growing each day.

San Francisco, Cal., May 17.—Colonel Ashford of Hawaii, who arrived here yesterday on the steamer Australia, said:

"There is a perfect reign of terror in the islands. Informers are everywhere. People dare not speak in their own houses. There is everywhere a feeling of uncertainty, doubt and impending danger and ruin. Those who favored annexation have made up their minds that it is impossible. Thurston has gone back and it is publicly said that he is going to propose the restoration of a monarchy, with Kalulani on the throne. A republic seems an impossibility, such a large part of the population are incapable of governing themselves. What they are talking of now and want first is some sort of protectorate of the United States. They are afraid of Japan and want some protection against any other foreign interference. I am not a royalist in principle, but under all the considerations existing down here I think it is the only thing. A monarchy would unite all the natives and be respected by all foreign powers."

Julius A. Palmer, who went to the Hawaiian Islands to investigate the state of affairs there as special correspondent of a New York paper, believes that there will be soon a crisis there and that the end can only be the restoration of the monarchical form of government. He says there never will be harmony until the monarchy is restored and Princess Kalulani placed upon the throne. In giving his reasons for this belief he said:

"There are three main points of danger to the government. The first is that Secretary Gresham has decided that Bowler is not an American citizen and another is that Great Britain has decided that Rickard and Walker are British subjects. The greatest fear of the Hawaiian government is Japan. The authorities are making arrangements to get in 5,000 Chinese coolies and to send away as many Japanese. The government, when the Japanese coolies came in, gave an understanding that if Japan would supply coolies they would be employed. Now Japan will probably hold that this understanding is being violated."

"The third danger to the government party is in its own people. The democracy, or the American league, is taking umbrage at the new importation of Chinese. The loyalty of the natives to monarchy was never so strong as it is now and it was the basis of the union of all parties in past years and there will be no harmony until that monarchy is restored in the person of Princess Kalulani and that would make peace at once."

ILLINOIS GRAND ARMY.

Conservative Resolutions Regarding Confederate Monument.

Bloomington, Ill., May 17.—The encampment of the Grand Army, department of Illinois, is nearing its end. Yesterday was devoted to a business session. The resolutions adopted are, as was predicted, of a mild and dignified character. That referring to the administration and Secretary Hoke Smith is especially so. The pension matter is left entirely to the national encampment. The resolutions in regard to the dedication of the Confederate monument say that while the Grand Army of Illinois cannot deny the right of the individual to take part in the dedication of the monument, the organization deprecates the fact that May 30, the national holiday consecrated to the heroic dead of the union army, has been chosen for such a purpose, and further, had any other day than Decoration day been selected, the department of Illinois would have taken no notice of the affair. Cairo was unanimously chosen as the place for holding the next encampment.

Mrs. Flo J. Miller was unanimously re-elected president of the women's relief corps. Mrs. Henry P. Thiel, of Chicago, was elected senior vice-president. Mrs. Emma Weaver, of Springfield, was elected state president of the ladies' aid society. Mrs. Arthur Quinlan, of Chicago, is the new state president of the ladies of the Grand Army.

Labor Inquiry Begun.

Washington, May 17.—Commissioner of Labor Wright has begun two very important investigations under special acts of congress. The first is as to the effect of machinery upon labor, time and cost of production. It will be very exhaustive and will cover all classes of fabrics and agricultural products. The second investigation will deal with the economic phases of women's work. It will probably be a year or more before any results are given to the public.

Senator Hill Denies It.

New York, May 17.—In regard to the statement that Senator David B. Hill has written a letter to be read before the Illinois democratic state convention next month advocating the free coinage of silver, Senator Hill said today: "I have not written a letter on the silver question within three years."

Violated Lottery Laws.

Marquette, Wis., May 17.—The publishers of the Daily Eagle, the North Star, and the Marquette Argus, were yesterday arrested for alleged violation of the lottery law by Deputy United States Marshal Buckley. They appeared before a United States commissioner and gave bonds for their appearance next Wednesday.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

House Adopts Resolution for Adjournment June 14.

Springfield, Ill., May 17.—Mr. Hunter raised objection to the approval of the journal in the Senate yesterday, because it contained the statement in the committee's report that pleuro-pneumonia existed among sloped cattle in the State. If approved, he said, great damage would be done to the State. The journal was approved, but Mr. Morrison stated that the committee had agreed that the objectionable words in the report should be expunged. Bills were passed as follows: Mr. Hunt's, to revise the law in relation to the suppression and prevention of contagious and infectious diseases among domestic animals; Mr. Leeper's, to prevent extortion by lenders of money secured by chattel mortgages. Senator Hunt's bill, to establish a Northern Illinois State Normal School, and Senator Craig's bill, to establish an Eastern Illinois Normal School, reported with amendments by a message from the House, were both concurred in by the Senate. The joint resolution for sine die adjournment June 14, which was reported in the same message, went over under the rules. Mr. Aspinwall's pool-selling bill was postponed for two weeks. Mr. Littler's revenue bill was made a special order for 2 o'clock next Wednesday. Mr. Littler's anti-trust bill, third reading, on a motion was also made a special order for Tuesday. Mr. Berry introduced the report of the committee appointed to visit educational institutions. The report, which speaks of the visit to the State University, recommends improvements in regard to several buildings there. It was adopted.

In the House Mr. Berry, in accordance with the action of the Republican caucus Wednesday, offered a resolution providing for sine die adjournment of the two houses on June 14. Mr. Ferns moved to amend by making the date May 31. The amendment was laid on the table and Mr. Berry's resolution was adopted. The motion to reconsider the vote by which the train-robbing bill failed to pass was made a special order for next Wednesday. The following House bills were passed: Mr. Snyder's, providing that every person seeking a mine manager's certificate, besides passing a satisfactory examination, shall have served four years as a practical coal miner; Mr. McLaughlin's, for the examination of fire bosses and holding engineers at coal mines. Senate bill appropriating $65,400 for the erection of monuments to mark the positions occupied by Illinois volunteers in the battles of Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge, was passed.

DR. RUSSELL BOOTH.

Anti-Briggs Man Elected Moderator by Presbyterians.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 17.—Rev. Dr. Robert Russell Booth, of New York, a strong anti-Briggs man, was yesterday elected moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. There were two other candidates, Rev. Dr. Page, of Leavenworth, Kan., and Rev. R. M. Adams, of Minnesota. The vote stood: Booth, 300; Page, 105; and Adams, 83.

The retiring moderator, Rev. Samuel A. Mutchmore, D. D., LL. D., of Philadelphia, delivered his annual sermon in the morning. His subject was the labor, sentiment and signal services of the Presbyterian church. The first order of the day to-day is the presentation of the report of the assembly committee on conference with theological seminaries. This is one of the most important questions to come before the assembly, and the report of the committee on Sunday observance will also be presented. A unique feature of the sessions of the general assembly of the two leading branches of the Presbyterian church is that both bodies will discuss the question of control of the theological seminaries conducted under their auspices. A big fight is expected on this question.

Work of Michigan Legislature.

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—A big fight came up in the house yesterday over the bill appropriating $60,000 for special improvements at the Michigan university. The amount in the original budget had been reduced from $192,000. When the vote was finally reached it was defeated, 43 to 44, but the vote was reconsidered and the bill tabled and the fight will be renewed. A measure providing for an interchangeable mileage ticket system over all Michigan railroads was passed. It provides for the issue of 1,000 mile books good upon any road, not only for the purchaser, but for any member of his family. There is some question of its constitutionality. The senate passed a bill providing for the recovery of premiums paid to so-called "graveyard" insurance companies and a bill prohibiting political fusion upon all nominations for offices down to constable, and in committee of the whole agreed to the Barnard bill providing for a reduction of the membership of the house from 100 to 64, and to the bill appropriating $25,000 for the removal of the homeopathic department at the University to Detroit.

Chinese Now Enen.

Think They Have the Orion Robbers.

Pana, Ill., May 17.—Three men arrested at Taylorville tally in many respects with description of the safe blowers who robbed the State bank of Orion of $1,500 gold, $650 silver and $12,350 in currency on night May 4.

Bloody Work of Renegade Indian.

Washington, May 17.—Indian Agent Myer at San Carlos, Ariz., telegraphed the Indian Bureau that a renegade Indian, probably Massai, had killed one Indian woman, wounded a second and carried off a third from a place ten miles south of the reservation. Police and troops are in pursuit.

SILVER CAMPAIGNS
ALL PLANNED OUT

IT WILL BE A FIGHT ON EDUCATIONAL LINES.

Money in Plenty Will Be Raised to Advance the Cause—Senator Voorhees Tells Why He Favors the White Metal—Action Taken in Kentucky.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 17.—In executive session yesterday it was practically decided to raise a fund of $250,000 per month to carry on an aggressive campaign of education. This money is to be raised by contributions from individuals, mining companies, and people generally interested in free coinage. Silver headquarters will be opened in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Washington, and other points where necessary. Leagues and clubs are to be organized in every precinct, county and State, and a specific plan will be agreed upon for the raising of money and the distribution of literature.

It has also been practically decided that four big mass meetings will be held in the United States within the next six months in the interest of silver. Prominent silver orators of all political parties will be requested to address these meetings, three of which will be held in the East. The silver convention realizes that in the battle with the gold standard supporters it will meet with the best equipped and best organized politico-economic movement of recent years, but it is claimed the entire West is in arms, and with the material and political support of the South it expects to win.

The principal speaker at yesterday's session of the convention was Wharton Barker, of Philadelphia. He said that the battle ground was in the east. He stood ready to battle for free coinage within the ranks of the republican party, and in case of failure would use his influence in favor of it for the party that favored free silver, irrespective of other issues. In April, he said, 800 members of the Manufacturers' club, of Philadelphia, declared for silver and gold. If the people are once aroused the battle will soon be over.

In the tabernacle at night speeches were made by Col. Patrick H. Winston, of Washington; H. F. Bartine, of Nevada; W. E. Borah, of Idaho; Gov. Alva F. Adams, of Colorado; Gen. T. J. Clinch, of California, and Senator Clarke, of Wyoming. It is expected to receive 1,000,000 answers to the appeal for support, and from these it is expected to raise an additional $200,000 per month for the campaign, giving the silver leaders practical control of nearly $500,000 per month for their uses in educating the people up to the bimetallic standard.

Action in Kentucky.

Owensboro, Ky., May 17.—The democratic convention to nominate for railroad commissioner for the First district unanimously adopted the following resolution: "We declare it to be an elementary principle of Democratic faith that both gold and silver coin shall constitute the primary money of the country, that both metals shall be received for mintage without discrimination and at the legal ratio that existed prior to 1873, and we demand the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver at this legal ratio and that both metals be declared full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private." This being the strong Democratic section of Kentucky, the action possesses significance as affecting the probable action of the state convention next month.

Is the Money of the People.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 17.—Senator Voorhees said last night: "I have always been the friend of silver, and it will always remain the money of the common people, while gold will be the money of the rich. This country fought the war of 1812, the Mexican war, and the war of the rebellion under silver. The opposition to it is knavish, speculative. By pronouncing against silver and driving it out as a currency the purchasing power of gold, which is in the hands of the rich, is increased and that is what they are after."

Senator Berry Favors Silver.

Little Rock, Ark., May 17.—Senator James H. Berry in an interview said he was more thoroughly convinced than ever in the doctrine of the free, independent and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. He said he believed that a majority of the people of the United States were in favor of free coinage at the same ratio, and that unless the next Democratic national convention so declared defeat would inevitably follow.

Too Busy for Debate.

Dubuque, Ia., May 17.—Senator Allison yesterday received a challenge from the Central Bimetallic League to debate the silver question, and made a reply regretting that his plans were such as to forbid his accepting the challenge.

Great Britain and Hawaii.

Washington, May 17.—There is reason to believe Great Britain is preparing to repeat in the Hawaiian Islands the salient features of what is now known as the Nicaraguan incident. Lord Kimberley's declaration establishing the British citizenship of Walker and Rickard is said to be only the first step toward more vigorous measures. The state department is looking into the merits of the case.

New Miners Are Angry.

Pocahontas, Va., May 17.—Some of the miners who arrived here are not pleased with the character of their work. Some of them are union men and came here unapprised of a strike. The miners are talking little to outsiders and drinking is abstained from. The leaders have advised peace and non-violation of the rights of property. All business is suspended and some citizens have left here fearing trouble.

THE WHITES FIRED
ON THE NEGROES

MORE BLOODSHED AT NEW ORLEANS YESTERDAY.

Foreman of the Colored Cotton Hand-lers Shot While Trying to Avert Trouble—Must Bring Out All the Coal Miners—Wisconsin Child Labor—Other Industrial News.

New Orleans, La., May 17.—Another outbreak between white and negro cotton handlers on the levee occurred yesterday at Gretna. About 11 o'clock several gangs of negro longshoremen appeared on the Gretna wharf prepared to load the steamship Orion. Small crowds of white men gathered around the ship just as the negroes arrived. In an attempt to avert trouble the foreman of the negroes was shot, but not seriously injured.

Must Bring Out All the Men.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 17.—The Associated Coal Operators of the Pittsburg district said to a committee of the miners' convention, which conferred with them on the wage question:

"We will pay 60 cents a ton for mining coal. We cannot pay more while mines in this district are being operated at less than that rate. Bring out the men now digging coal for 55 cents so we can compete with their product and we will pay you 69 cents a ton." A determined effort will now be made to bring out all the men. The striking miners profess to have assurances of financial aid from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The strikers have determined to establish camps at the mines and prevent work if possible.

The Great Northern Trouble.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—It is said President Debs of the A. R. U. is on his way to the Northwest to look into the discharge of three St. Cloud dispatchers by the Great Northern because of their prominence in the union. It is alleged the St. Cloud Union has invoked the presence of some leading officer of the general body, so the matter may receive full attention and the position of the union be clearly defined.

Wisconsin Child Labor.

Ashland, Wis., May 17.—Ethelbert Stewart, special agent of the United States Bureau of Labor, in his report on Wisconsin labor statistics says there is more child labor in proportion to manufacturing institutions in Wisconsin than in any other State, and as regards wages, hours, etc., Wisconsin is worse off than in any other State except Pennsylvania.

ABOUT BEHRING SEA.

State Department Worried Over Possible Complications.

Washington, May 17.—Hawaii and the Bering Sea seal fisheries are now claiming urgent attention from the state department, and Great Britain figures extensively in both cases. The change of front made by the latter power in regard to the protection of seals has placed the administration in an awkward predicament; and to prevent, if possible, further grave complication the United States revenue cutter Commodore Perry was hurried out from Mare Island, Cal., Wednesday night on an important mission. It will make all haste possible in order to reach Bering Sea in time to prevent the fleet of American cutters which are now heading for the sealing grounds, from seizing any armed vessels, as is the present intention. Upon the fleetness of the Perry may depend the warding off of trouble with England. The latter government has practically decreed that any interference with armed sealing vessels flying the British flag will meet with retaliation in the shape of claims for heavy damages, and the Perry's sudden departure for the North is to prevent this.

Release American Sailors.

Washington, May 17.—A dispatch received by Acting Secretary of State Uhl from United States Consul Hyatt, at Santiago, Cuba, announces the satisfactory termination of the cases of Bolton and Richieu, two American sailors found adrift in a small boat off the eastern coast of Cuba and arrested and confined on a charge of being implicated in the rebellion. The men have been released, but no indemnity will be paid.

Wheat Scarce in Southwest.

Kansas City, Mo., May 17.—Wheat sold here yesterday at 75 cents a bushel, an advance of nearly 30 cents from the extreme low price reached last fall. So scarce has wheat become in the southwest, and so high have prices gotten, that wheat was bought in Chicago for shipment to this city. A special rate of 1 1/2 cents a hundred-weight has been made for the purpose, and it is expected a good deal of wheat will be brought here from Chicago.

GOVERNOR EVANS INDIGNANT.

South Carolina Executive Says His State Is Still in the Union.

New York, May 17.—The World has received the following from Governor Evans of South Carolina:

"There is no treason in South Carolina. We are in the union, and in it to stay. We claim the right as a sovereign state to resist against any effort by the judges of the United States court to centralize this government and destroy our national and state constitutions. We will obey the decrees of the court, but will exercise every right guaranteed American citizens for the preservation of our liberties. The attempt to nullify our laws for political purposes under the pretense of conflicts with the constitution of the United States arouses the righteous indignation of our entire people. We confidently rely upon the United States Supreme court and will abide by its decision. We redeemed our state from negro domination and anarchy in 1876 in spite of Grant's bayonets, restoring order, peace and prosperity, and will preserve our civilization by lawful methods if allowed, but we will preserve it."

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS LEGISLATE.

Report Against Barring Liquor Dealers from the Organization.

Omaha, Neb., May 17.—In the Catholic Knights of America convention Fr. Nugent of Des Moines made a ringing speech applauding the insurance feature and declaring that he had the hardest work in inducing Catholics to make wills or get insurance. There were a majority and minority report against amalgamation with other church bodies. A report was made against female members of the order, whether social or insurance. The committee on the proposition that liquor dealers be barred from the society reported against making this distinction, because, as the parish priest was the one who was called on to pass upon the fitness of the members, he must have the responsibility.

Medal for Harrison.

Newark, N. J., May 17.—Many prominent citizens of this state were attracted here to the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the New Jersey Historical society. Ex-President Benjamin Harrison was the chief guest of the society. He was presented with the gold memorial medal. The medal was struck by the society to commemorate the formation of the constitutional government of the United States and the centennial and inauguration of General Washington as resident on April 30.

Break Out of Prison.

Lynching in Kentucky.

Marion, Ky., May 17.—John Howerton, white, was lynched here about 1 o'clock this morning. On April 25 Howerton assaulted Anna Pierce, the sixteen-year-old daughter of a prominent farmer, who now lies in a critical condition, with slight hopes for her recovery. A mob was formed and the jail stormed. The prisoner was taken to a slaughter-house, a rope was placed around his neck, and he was pulled from the ground to a cross-beam.

British Soldiers Stricken.

Halifax, N. S., May 17.—Word which has come from St. Lucia, West Indies, announcing that an epidemic of yellow fever has broken out there among the British artillerymen gives rise to the expectation among military men here that the Halifax batteries of royal artillery will be sent there to take the places of the affected troops, who will be invalided to England as soon as possible. A dispatch from St. Lucia states that thirty soldiers have died.

THE HESSIAN FLY.

Reports of Damage Done to Growing Winter Wheat.

Chicago, May 17.—Samples of the growing winter wheat plant from Indiana, literally alive with the larvae of the Hessian fly, were exhibited on 'Change yesterday, and so alarmed the traders that a 2-cent raise in the price was made. It is denied that this condition is general throughout the state. Reports received from many points show great damage by the pest while in others it has not appeared.

In Illinois no reports of severe damage have been received at the State Agricultural Department, but private advices show the devastating fly has appeared and is causing great destruction.

Reports from Ohio indicate that the State is practically free from the pest, and a magnificent crop is looked for. The fly has not appeared in Missouri or Arkansas, and only to a slight extent in Kansas. The wheat crop in the latter State, however, has been greatly damaged by drouth and chinch bugs.

A Hop, Skip and Jump.

An athletic caper of this sort would scarcely be considered indecorous in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his digestion through the instrumentality of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among remedies for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, a trio of evils usually found in conjunction with each other. As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in healthful plenitude through the agency of this superior restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor. For the prevention and cure of malarious, rheumatic and kidney troubles the Bitters is a most direct and thoroughgoing medicinal agent. Its effects are speedily felt and comprehensive.

A CRY FOR HELP

RESULT OF A PROMPT REPLY.

Two Open Letters that Should Suggest to Thousands of American Women to go and do Likewise.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

LITTLE FALLS, MINN., May 11, 1894.

"I am suffering and need your aid. I have terrible pains in both sides of my womb, extending down the front of my limbs and lower part of my back, attended by backache and pains in the back of the neck and ears.

The doctors have given me opiates to quiet the pain. I have a very high fever nearly all the time. I am nervous, and cannot stand. My doctor says I must keep in bed. Now I place myself under your care. I am only twenty-one years old, and too young to suffer so much."—Mrs. CHAS. PARKER.

The above letter was received by Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., May 15, 1894, which received a prompt reply.

The following letter reached Mrs. Pinkham about five months later. Note the result.

"I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow-sufferers of all female complaints, that Lydia E. Pinkham's treatment and Vegetable Compound have entirely cured me of all the pains and suffering I was enduring when I wrote you last May. I followed your advice to the letter, and the result is simply wonderful. May Heaven bless you and the good work you are doing for your sex!"—Mrs. CHAS. PARKER.

All the druggists in town say there is a tremendous demand for Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound; and it is doing lots of good among the women.

If you are sick and in trouble write to Mrs. Pinkham. Relief awaits you.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1749—Dr. Edward Jenner, discoverer of vaccination, born; died 1823.
1829—John Jay, statesman, died in Westchester county, N. Y.; born in New York city 1753.
1838—Talleyrand, famous French diplomat and minister to Bonaparte, died in Paris; born 1754. There were many Talleyrands, and the chief of them had H. W. HERBERT, many handles to his name, as Charles Maurice de and Prince of Benevento, but was very well identified in his day and will be in history by the simple name Talleyrand; he it was who declared that "Language is given to a man to conceal his thoughts." Napoleon was too rapid for him and he too firm for Napoleon, so they parted company in 1809, and he labored for the restoration of Louis XVIII; while laboring for the republican cause in 1793 he went to England and was ordered out of the country; proscribed by Robespierre, he found an asylum in America and wrote a famous memoir on America's commercial relations.
1858—Henry William Herbert (Frank Forrester), novelist, died in New York; born in London 1807.
1880—A Texan cyclone swept across five states in the Mississippi valley with great destruction.
1894—Storms destroyed property valued at $1,000,000 in Ohio, Michigan and states westward.

MITCHELL ON FREE SILVER

William J. Mitchell of Chicago, an old Janesville man, has recently written a very strong article against free coinage, which the Chicago Tribune published. Mr. Mitchell said in part:

There are seven classes of persons engaged in this incipient revolution in the United States:

First: As is always the case in a new departure, the politician, who is ever ready to ride into office on the tidal wave of politics, bobs up smilingly and receives thundering applause as he tickles the ear of the crowd in the pit with his old wise saws and stale wit.

Second: There are the men, the Wolcotts, the Tellers, the Stewarts, etc., who raise silver and who each represent rotten boroughs in the West, each borough or state not so large in population as a ward in Chicago, and do not equal in wealth a half dozen houses in this city.

Third: There are the men who always fill caucuses and conventions and seek office as buzzards do their prey.

Fourth: There are some of the country gentlemen in favor of free coinage whose experience in finances begins and ends with the price of their products in their own markets. The relation of cause and effect is held by them to be a chimera, and the effect of European markets upon the prices of their products here is held to be the sheerest nonsense. This portion of the farmers believe free coinage is and will be the panacea for all sufferings and a balm of Gilead for all woes.

Fifth: There are thousands of men whose action is governed by a well organized appetite, like the late Coxey's army, that suppose and believe that free coinage will fill their stomachs and cure all their ills.

Sixth: There are anarchists, who believe in the destruction of all things and a general division and appropriation of others' property among them.

Seventh: There are the socialists and populists, who believe that the United States government is not of the people, but is some great giant who can take care of all and provide the necessities and luxuries of life by law.

Are all these leaders and followers sane and wise men? Are they to be trusted in overturning the labor and experience of a world gone by? Are they to be allowed to destroy all that is venerable and valuable and build up a balloon of finances upon their wild theories, filled with a debased and unsound currency as ballast?

The panics of 1873 and 1893 were but summer breezes compared with the cyclone of horrors and ruin which these men would entail upon the country by "free coinage" if they should be successful. Do they say in their folly and madness that all this is but wild assertion without any foundation in fact or experience? Do these mountebanks say that they can unsettle the finances of the United States and destroy the basis of the dealings with the world outside and say there is no danger?

My dear reader, would you sail in a vessel commanded and manned by men who were not sailors—who neither know nor consult charts or compass? Would you trust your life with a quack? Would you trust your suit with a shyster? Would you trust your property with a stranger? Is it safe to trust men of doubtful honesty or questionable ability who laugh at fear, who scorn the experiences of the past and scorn at the warnings of history?

Do we gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles? "Public credit is public wealth?" The beautiful plumage which adorns the bird assists it in its flight. Strip it of its plumage and you fix it to earth.

George E. Roberts, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, has written a little book entitled, "Coin at School in Finance." The book is published by the W. B. Conkey Company, of Chicago, and is a fac simile of "Coin's Financial School," in appearance. It is written in the vein of a story. The scene is laid at Eagle Grove, Iowa, and the principal characters are a bricklayer, an engineer and some traveling salesmen. The story is refreshing and logical, and is a complete answer to the fallacies of "Coin's Financial School." The Honesty Money League of Illinois endorse it, and recommend it to the state. The book is well worth reading by every man who takes an interest in national finance. Price twenty-five cents.

An innocent editor was fined fifty dollars for fishing in Delavan Lake Sunday; while President Cleveland was allowed to fish all day Monday without being disturbed. There must be something radically wrong with the Wisconsin fish laws.

After thoroughly hypnotizing the state of Kansas, Mrs. Lease has turned her attention to individual victims. There's more money in her last venture.

Copper is advancing. The government should lay in a stock for free coinage.

MANY AT DENNIS RYAN'S FUNERAL
Church Was crowded and the Cortege Is A Long One.

The funeral of Dennis Ryan was held in St. Augustine church in Footville this morning at 9 o'clock, the attendance being so large that many were unable to gain admittance to the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Buckley of Brodhead, and large delegations from Divisions Nos. 1 and 3 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this city attended in a body, wearing the regalia of the order. At the conclusion of the services the remains were brought to this city and buried in Mount Olivet, the funeral party being accompanied by a very large number of people, forming one of the largest funeral processions ever witnessed in Rock county from outside the city.

Mrs. F. B. Baldwin.

Mrs. F. B. Baldwin died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Lee, Thursday, May 16, at the advanced age of eighty-eight years. Mrs. Baldwin was a native of Vermont. She came west in an early day, and for many years has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Lee. A member of the Congregational church, she exemplified in her daily life the religion that she enjoyed, and that was a comfort to her in her declining years. Besides Mrs. Lee, two daughters, Mrs. Brayton, of New York, and Mrs. Mason, of Iowa, and a son, A. T. Baldwin, of De Kalb, are left to mourn. The funeral will be held at the home of A. S. Lee, 55 Linn street, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, May 18. The remains will be taken to De Kalb, Ill., for burial.

HAD A LIVELY TIME AT THE DEPOT.

What Looked Like an Embryo Free For All Stopped By a Plug.

A fat traveling man dropped two grips on the toes of a man from Rockford and then slapped himself violently on the back of his neck at the depot the St. Paul depot this morning.

Then the Rockford man swore a bit and his eyes stuck out. He aimed at an imaginary spot in the air, and whirling about waved his arms about his head like a windmill. A coffin salesman from Joliet hustled up to see what the matter was. Then people saw him grab off his hat and work his arms like a high-pressure steam engine with the governor belt broken.

"What's the matter?" asked a ministerial looking gentleman with eye glasses.

"Wh! Whew! Look out!" and the fat fellow made another sideways leap and slapped himself between the shoulders.

Then the ministerial looking fellow joined the war dance. He struck two ways at once and tied himself up in a bow knot in a vain endeavor to dodge something that he evidently saw sailing through the air.

An old maid carrying a ticket to Whitewater clenching in one hand, an oilcloth grip sack in the other, stopped short and made a few false motions without letting go of the grip. A salesman's silk hat went down over his ears when the grip struck it and he dodged. Then he too began to paw the air. In the meantime a fireman who was oiling an engine turned suddenly and shot a stream of oil into space with his can but missed the mark. In an instant his cap was off and he cut circles through the air that for grace and beauty would shame a headless hen. Then the engineer got the fever and in trying to hit something in the air, pounded a lantern with a monkey wrench. By this time this express messenger had jumped from his car carrying on an aggressive warfare with some unseen enemy. In the meantime an observing brakeman had been busy whittling out a small plug. When he finished he walked into the express car, drove the plug into the hole in the bee hive that was consigned to Madison and the trouble was at an end.

Great Powers Make Their Protest—Reforms Demanded.

Constantinople, May 17.—The note presented to the Sultan by the representatives of the powers respecting reforms in Armenia comprises 250 closely written quarto pages. The note demands the appointment of a high commissioner, general amnesty for and release of all political prisoners, the revision of certain judgments, and the appointment of a commission to sit at Constantinople charged with the surveillance and application of the reforms.

and working in concert with the high commissioner previously referred to. The government is to strictly enforce the laws against compulsory conversions to Islam. The Sultan's reception of the note was not unfavorable.

JUDGE F. M. SCANLAN LEAVES FOR FENNIMORE.

He Will Take Charge of the Family Estate At That Place Which Is Valued at Over $125,000 By Unanimous Choice of His Five Brothers City Happenings.

It is for the purpose of taking charge of and managing the family estate of $125,000, that Judge F. M. Scanlan left Janesville this morning for his new home at Fennimore, Wis. He was on his way to the depot when a representative of 'the Gazette' met him.

"You see," said the judge, "the Scanlan estate consists of $120,000 worth of land and other property. There are six boys, four of them attorneys like myself and every last one of them insist on the statement, which is doubtless true, that I am the right man to look after the property. ## MILL HANDS TO MEET AND TALK IT OVER

THE STRIKERS WILL DISCUSS THE SITUATION.

Call Issued For All Employees to Get Together On Saturday Evening At Columbia Hall—Upper Mill Closed After But One Day's Run—Men All Quiet.

The result of the cotton mill strike is still in doubt, but the employees will talk the matter over on Saturday night and decide on a future course.

The upper cotton factory is again at a standstill. In fact, it shut down on Thursday night, after running one day. This was owing to the fact that the "mule" spindles were idle, which furnishes material for running the looms, and not because the haddes refused to work. Many of the hands outside the mule rooms, were anxious to resume work and end the strike. The lower factory is running, but with a reduced force.

"I can fill the lower mill to its full capacity tomorrow morning," said Manager Heller this afternoon. "But there is no necessity for it, and we prefer to run with a light force, and let the matter of the strike work itself out in its own way."

One thing, above all others to be commended is the manner in which the employees of both factories are conducting themselves. There has not been the least show or sign of any unlawful demonstration, too common among strikers in other cities and trade centers. Here even a stranger would not realize that a strike was on among three or four hundred hands. All are quiet, patiently waiting for something to turn up to end the strike.

Meeting Is Called. Just what the result will be cannot be determined at this time; even the agitators of the strike cannot tell, for the simple reason that they do not know. The following call for the meeting of the operatives has been handed The Gazette for publication.

Some action may be taken at this gathering, if it is generally attended, that possibly may end advantageously to all concerned. The call reads:

EDITOR GAZETTE:—We wish to call the employees of both cotton mills together and hold a meeting, to see if we cannot get the same wages that are paid in other cotton mills in the Eastern States. We also hope that every employee of both cotton mills will attend this meeting and come to an understanding, and find out if we will work for the present wages or for the wages that was paid us some time ago. We do not wish anything of the cotton mill stockholders; only our rights. This meeting will be held in Columbia hall Saturday evening May 18, 1895, at 7:30 o'clock.

BRIDGE VERY WEAK AND NEEDS REPAIRS

COUNCIL COMMITTEE LOOK THE STRUCTURE OVER.

Deck, At Least Must Be Repaired, Or The City Will Have Some Damage To Pay—Timbers and Piles In Fair Shape—Some Favor Replacing It With Steel.

Just what will be done with Milwaukee street bridge is being considered and investigated this afternoon by the council committee on highways, streets and bridges. Street Commissioner Watson was with the committee, and took up the paving blocks in a number of places that the committee might be better able to see and determine the exact condition of the bridge.

"A new deck will certainly have to be put on the bridge," said Commissioner Watson. "While the deck is tolerably sound in some places, a great part is quite rotten, especially along the outer side of the roadway, next to the sidewalks. I think, however, the timber and piles will last five, six or seven years longer, with perhaps a little attention and occasional repairs."

Quite a number of the aldermen want and are talking in favor of a modern steel truss bridge. They maintain that Janesville has outgrown the antediluvian style of bridges used here, and that it is about time to condemn them, especially when a new bridge is to be built. They insist that a modern steel bridge can be built at this time very cheap, and that in the end such a bridge would be found the cheapest.

The investigation this afternoon, by tearing up sections of the pavement, revealed the fact that the bridge ought to be condemned and closed to public travel, as the rotten condition of the plank under the paving blocks was such that they were liable to give way at any time and be the cause of heavy damages.

Late this afternoon the committee decided to recommend to the council Monday evening, that the bridge be re-decked and replanked, and that the work be let by contract; the city to repair and strengthen all parts of the bridge found necessary below the deck. Commissioner Watson, thereupon, commenced repairing the patches where the paving blocks had been removed, by laying down planks, this being considered sufficient for temporary purposes.

THE LAND OF "PRETTY SOON."

I know of a land where the streets are paved
With the things which we meant to achieve.
It is waited with the money we meant to have saved
And the pleasures for which we grieve.
The kind words unspoken, the promises broken
And many a coveted boon
Are stowed away there in that land somewhere—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

There are uncut jewels of possible fame
Lying about in the dust.
And many a noble and lofty aim
Covered with mold and rust.
And, oh, this place, while it seems so near,
Is farther away than the moon.
Though our purpose is fair, yet we never get there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

The road that leads to that mystic land
Is strewn with pitiful wrecks,
And the ships that have sailed for its shining strand
Bear skeletons on their decks.
It is farther at noon than it was at dawn,
And farther at night than at noon.
Oh, let us beware of that land down there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

cial.

BRUIN JONES.

"Captain, who was the best soldier
you ever knew?"

This question was propounded recently to Captain Bronaugh, the present coal oil inspector of St. Louis and a man who has seen enough of war to make his judgment in regard to soldiers worth something.

"Well, I hardly know," was the reply, "but I can tell you very easily who was the best fighter I ever knew."

"What's the difference?"
"There's a great deal of difference.
To be a good soldier one must have courage, patience and endurance, discipline and a great many other things. To be a good fighter one only needs to have plenty of the devil in him. I can't say in regard to the best soldier, but the best fighter I ever knew was undoubtedly a man named Jones. I have no idea what his first name really was, but our men all called him Bruin, for reasons that I think you can guess when you hear the story. He was a member of my company, but I have no recollection of how or when he joined us. The first day I remember ever to have seen him was the 15th of August, 1862, just the day before the awful fight at Lone Jack."

It seems that on that date all the companies in Lewis' regiment were reorganized, and that the voting for officers was all done by ballot. When it came to Bronaugh's company, every vote read was cast for him for captain, except the last one. To the surprise of every one,
the last vote was called out in stentorian
tones:

"The devil!"
At the announcement of this unexpected vote the men stared around at each other in amazement.

"Say," remarked the wit of the company at last, "that fellow ought to have better manners than vote for himself."
In the laugh that followed all the company joined, except Jones. He stood stiff as a ramrod, with a countenance like that of Mephistopheles, until the laugh had subsided, and then he remarked:

"He voted for a blamed sight better man than Bronaugh, anyway."

I think that the reader will concede that when the captain compliments Mr.
Jones' fighting qualities it is not because of any special personal friendship for him. He was a man of about 30 years of age, below medium height, slender, clean shaven, dark complexion, and was very much like a hawk in the keenness
of his eyes, the curvature of his nose, the musicalness of his voice and the general amiability of his disposition.
The captain sums up the case by saying:

"He was sours on the world and all the rest of mankind."

He was never known to agree with anybody on any subject that could be mentioned. The nearest he ever came to it was one day in camp, when the soldiers happened to be discussing the character of Abraham Lincoln, and one of them forcibly expressed the opinion that he was the greatest scoundrel that ever lived.

"Yes!" exclaimed Jones, with a profusion of lurid language. "There's only one more contemptible hound in the universe than Lincoln."

"Who's he?"

"Jeff Davis," he replied, with all the withering contempt he could crowd into the words. From this speech it may be imagined that while Mr. Jones hated the Union he did not adore the Confederacy. The boys in camp suggested that he wore the gray merely because he had more men to shoot at than if he wore the blue. There was no duty too hard for him, no night too cold or rainy for him to stand guard, no fight too dangerous for him, provided only he was allowed to have his fill of profanity and abuse for the world in general. Once when it was hinted that the artillery was not strong enough to dislodge a certain battery belonging to the enemy,
some one suggested:

"Put old Jones up in front and let him cuss at 'em. If that don't clean 'em out, there's no use to try bombshells."

He would not only curse the Federals, but the Confederates also, the officers as well as the men. Several times he was known to knock his messmate down with the flat side of a spade, and then if he was so inconsiderate as to remonstrate to threaten him with the edge. Owing to such traits in him as these, the men gradually grew unwilling to eat with him, so that for months he was a veritable hermit, though surrounded by men.
No one spoke to him or had anything of any kind to do with him when it could be exactly what he wanted. About this time he was nicknamed "Bruin," not only on account of his bearlike temper, but also because the solitary figure, squatting about by his campfire, eating his own food and holding converse with no one was very much like that of a bear caged by itself to prevent it from injuring anything.

In this way things worked tolerably smoothly for awhile, but before long

Captain Bronaugh and his men decided that if it could be done they would like very much to get Bruin transferred to some other company. There were just two difficulties in the way of this. In the first place, no captain who knew him very well would consent to take him, and, in the second place, if Bruin knew that Bronaugh and his men did not want him he would insist most strenuously on staying. Both these difficulties were circumvented by a little strategy. In the company of Captain Boles there was a man named Eph Goff,
a Henry county man, a brave soldier and an ardent friend of Bronaugh. He is at present living on his farm near Clinton and is said to be as rollicking and as fond of his joke now as he was then. One day Bronaugh approached Boles, explained the situation and asked that Goff be transferred to his company.

"All right," said Captain Boles.
"Who can you give me in his place?"
"Well, I've got a man named Jones you can have."

"Is he a good soldier?"
"The best fighter I ever saw."

"Done," said Captain Boles, and that part of the matter was settled. The only thing now remaining was to get Bruin's consent to be transferred, and this was done in the following manner:

"Mr. Jones," said Captain Bronaugh one day, "I understand you are trying to get out of my company and into Captain Boles'. I want you to understand, sir, that I don't propose to permit you to do anything of the kind. If any officer has got to be losing his men for every little fool reason that may come up, there'd just as well not be any officer at all."

Bruin looked a little dazed at this statement of the case, and then remarked that he'd be dash blank dashed if he would stay in any such double dashed company any more—just see if he would!
In this manner his consent was won, and the next day he applied to Captain Boles for a transfer. The application should have been sent to certain superior officers, but Captain Bronaugh was unwilling for this to be done, for fear he might lose his trade.

"No use to bother Colonel Lewis about a little thing like that," he said to Boles. "Just let's wait till the thing has about had time to go through the rounds and then just swap the men ourselves."

Accordingly, some two weeks later,
Bruin was informed that his transfer had been granted, the two captains exchanged the names and the trade was settled.

The next time the two captains met was several months later in Bosier parish, Louisiana, and—shall I confess it—at a dance. If this statement should meet the eyes of any of his church officials, they are respectfully requested not to turn him out on account of it. The offense was committed over 30 years ago, and I do not really think he makes a practice of dancing today. However, he and Boles were both on the floor and dancing, when the latter exclaimed:

"Say, Bronaugh, I've got a crow to pick with you."

"What is it?"

"You remember that fellow Jones
you traded off on me? What did you mean by telling me he was a good soldier?"

"I never said it, Boles. I said he was the best fighter I ever saw."

"Oh, that was it, was it? I believe you were right about it too. He's whipped every private in my company already, and they say he is going to begin on the officers next. There's no discount on his being a fighter."

The last time Captain Bronaugh ever saw Bruin was in the hospital at Memphis. The first face he noticed when he entered the ward was his, and it was pale and still as death. Hoping to be of some service to one of his former men, the captain stood at the bedside for a moment. Just then the closed eyes opened, the face lighted up with its old expression, and in the half stifled accents of death the old stream of profanity began to flow. Bruin was Bruin to the last.

Hundreds of old Confederate soldiers in Missouri will recall poor Bruin with a glimmer about the eyes that is half a smile and half a tear. Nobody knows what his first name really was; nobody ever knew where he came from. It used to be asserted that he was from Arkansas, but perhaps this was merely from a humorous desire to lower the reputation of that state. No one knows who his people were or what his past history was. Let us hope, though, that he who knows all about him saw something in his early life that could account for the hardness of heart of this Timon of Athens of the Confederacy and made some allowance accordingly.—P. W.
Horn in St. Louis Republic.

Popularity of the Bicycle.

Some definite idea of the growth of the bicycle business in this country may be gained from the fact that whereas the total number of bicycle manufacturers in the United States was but six in 1885, with an output of only 11,000 wheels, and in 1890 but 17, with an output of 40,000, at the present time there are 126 factories, which will make an aggregate of nearly or quite half a million machines this year. The increase in the last five years has been nothing short of marvelous, and it is probable that the next five years will see a very great advance upon the present product of these fast multiplying concerns. And now that bicycling is becoming so much more general than hitherto there is added reason why we should improve our country roads. If road reform was necessary five years ago, it is far more necessary and desirable now.—Providence Journal.

Angling For Him.

Johnny Smart—I say, Mr. Cashley, are you a fish?

Mr. Cashley—No, Johnny. Why do you ask?

Johnny Smart—Oh, nothing. Only I heard sister tell momma that she intended to land you the next time you called.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Snake Story.

Here is a snake story from a Bechuanaland paper which we do not remember having seen before: A Barberton man, who goes to church regularly, was one day walking along the banks of Concession creek eating a sandwich, and on account of the usual disparity between meat and bread he threw the redundant piece into the water. Immediately a swarm of yellow fish bubbled around it, fighting for the mouthful. The man searched his pockets for fishing tackle, but all in vain, and he was just beginning to die of despair
when his eye lighted on a black snake.
At that moment he remembered how his father used to tell him that blacksnakes were very expert in catching fish. He therefore grabbed the reptile by the tail, carried it to the river and held it over the struggling fish. The snake proved itself a born angler, and in the course of an hour the man had captured forty fine fish. A few days later, as he was walking in the same place, he felt something rub against his leg, and,
looking down, he saw his friend the blacksnake, eager for more sport.

Dutch Celebrations.

Foreigners sometimes smile at the way Dutch people go on celebrating historical events which occurred several centuries ago, and there is no denying that the yearly commemoration of a siege of Groningen in the year 1594
may become somewhat monotonous,
but it keeps the memory of such events
fresh among the younger generation better than any history learned at school. Unlike the old lady who did not care for history, because she thought
"by-gones had better be by-gones," Dutch children, with these constant appeals to their imaginations, learn to look upon the past as part of the present and feel that they are bound to make themselves worthy of the hero race to whom they owe their liberties.

Rich Is Mexico.

Mexico produces anything that can be raised in any other country. So varied is the climate that in the same state can be raised any product of the tropics and of the polar region. Cotton, wheat, rice, sugar, silk, coconuts, bananas,
rice, coconuts, vanilla, logwood, mahogany, hides and wine are the principal products.

BETTER THAN A GOLD MINE.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.38; the month before $186.86 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap, dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without using the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars
address The Perfecting Mfg. Co., Station C, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

ALL FAMILIES WANT THE GAZETTE PRIZE

BABY CONTEST IS GETTING VERY SPIRITED.

Five Hundred Dollars Worth of Building and Loan Association Stock is a Nice Nest Egg For a Three Year Old and the Vote Between Several Contestants is Very Close.

The time is not far distant now, when some Janesville baby will get The Gazette's $500 prize. The ballot closes June 1, and then the prize will be awarded. Five hundred dollars is a nice sum for a baby to begin life with. Put it out at interest and when the babe becomes the man or woman, enough cash for a start in life is available.

Do not think that you can sit down and wait for that $500 to come to your home. The ballots are piling up rapidly, for, naturally enough, $500 is enough to encourage every father and mother in Janesville to strive for that prize for their "ownest own." Competition is getting strong as the time begins to narrow down and in this case the old adage, "everything comes to he who waits" is far from true. It should be "everything comes to he who hustles." The Gazette has been asked many times to publish the vote as it stands, but this would not be fair. It would tell Brown that Jones was leading him, and The Gazette wishes to treat all hands alike. However, the count is close between several contestants up to date, and, like everything else, the "early bird" etc., applies.

The Gazette's offer is this: The baby receiving the highest number of votes will be presented with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association.

It will buy an education.
It will buy a building lot.
It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.

It is more than many people are able to save in a life time.

Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened on May 1st and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

The Publishers of "The Janesville Gazette" will give 5 Shares of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association to the Baby who receives the largest number of ballots.

Of Janesville, Wis.

MILLINERY NOTES.

Lace Ruches for the Neck—Sailor Hats and Flowers.

The sailor hat will be worn again this season. In every respect this year's version of this time honored shape will be larger than that of last season—the brim broader, crown deeper and larger in circumference—more altogether of the style of those worn by boating men. Some, too, according to Paris models, will be fully trimmed with ribbon, velvet and flowers, especially roses.

With dress capes a full ruche of lace or chiffon is usually worn, a bouquet or spray of flowers being often added at the side.

The variations in spring and summer hats are principally in the trimming, so

BONNET.

Parisian authorities say, although here many different sizes and shapes of hats are seen in the untrimmed form. Flowers predominate, while wings of spangled gauze are the favorite ornaments aside from blossoms. The large flowers are most frequently employed without foliage, but fine ones are intermixed with grasses and small leaves, while foliage alone forms the garniture of some extremely effective hats. Green is a refined color and an artistic one when properly used. The keen arsenical shades must of course be excepted, because the hard and violent tones of every color are unpleasant, but most of the greens now seen are pleasing. Ivy leaves, maidenhair fern and mignonette are all most effective and are to be seen in perfection among this season's artificial floral productions.

Many hats and bonnets are composed entirely of flowers. Violets, lilacs and cowslips are the favorites. There are several sorts of violets—the wood violet, the Russian violet and the Parma violet. Black roses, with yellow middles, are also worn. It is fashionable to employ a combination of flowers on the same hat or bonnet, but the effect is less often satisfactory than when one variety is used.

The capote shown in the cut has a crown of roses without leaves, very delicate in tone. The crown is surrounded by black lace in coquilles. Two roses are placed in front, with a butterfly ornament of jet. The ribbons are of velvet, with a satin face.
